

Faeze Amlahi

Graphic and motion
graphic designer

I hold a degree in graphic design and have gained valuable work experience in this field, particularly within the advertising and marketing departments of various business companies. To further enhance my skill set, I have pursued training and actively engaged in the realm of motion graphics. My interest in learning and mastering After Effects has driven me to achieve successful projects in both graphic design and motion graphics, both as a collaborative team member and as an independent freelancer.
